

A practical course for Early Years teachers and leaders

On Monday 14 May 2018, 1.30 - 4.30pm at Stibbington Centre, PE8 6LP

'Learning outside the classroom gives children contact with the natural world and offers them experiences that are unique to outdoors' (CLOtC)

The EYFS framework states that providers must 'ensure that outdoor activities are planned and taken on a daily basis'. When young children engage actively with the outdoor environment they develop a sense of wonder and excitement. Whatever the setting, each outdoor environment has its own unique characteristics and features, providing a rich and dynamic space for learning and development in the Early Years. This practical course will provide teachers and leaders with a range of ideas and activities that can be adapted and developed back in their own setting.

The day will include guidance on using the outdoors to inspire your youngest pupils through....
